

SEMINARS AND WORKSHOPS

Stay informed about upcoming seminars and workshops tailored for students and professionals in Sustainable Agriculture, Green Biotechnology, and Environmental and Life Sciences. Gain valuable insights and network with industry leaders through these enriching events.

PAST INITIATIVES

Series of UNlgreen Seminars at UNIMORE :

Biological control of invasive pests in citrus: challenges and solutions (22 March 2024) – Dr Alejandro Tena Barreda, Institut Valencià d'Investigacions Agràries (Valencia, Spain).

Honeydew as food source for beneficial insects in agriculture (22 March 2024) – Dr. Alejandro Tena Barreda, Institut Valencià d'Investigacions Agràries (Valencia, Spain).

Post-mortem colonisation of human remains: the role of vertebrate and invertebrate scavengers (5 April 2024) – Dr Luca Manelli, Lecturer in Forensic Biology at Bournemouth University (United Kingdom).

SEMINARI E WORKSHOP

Tieniti informato sui prossimi seminari e workshop su misura per studenti e professionisti nel campo dell'agricoltura sostenibile, della biotecnologia verde e delle scienze ambientali e della vita. Ottieni informazioni preziose e fai rete con i leader del settore attraverso questi eventi arricchenti.

The global crisis and the ecological impacts of industrial agriculture; Agroecology: scientific basis and principles (10 April 2024) – Prof. Clara Inés Nicholls, Ph.D, Permanent Lecturer on Sustainable Rural Development at UC Berkeley (USA).

The ecological role of biodiversity in agroecosystems; Agroecological conversion of farming systems; Biodiversity and pest management (12 April 2024) – Prof. Clara Inés Nicholls, Ph.D, Permanent Lecturer on Sustainable Rural Development at UC Berkeley (USA).

The design of climate change resilient farming systems; Assessing sustainability and resiliency of agroecosystems (15 April 2024) – Prof. Clara Inés Nicholls, Ph.D, Permanent Lecturer on Sustainable Rural Development at UC Berkeley (USA).

Urban agroecology; Applications of agroecology to rural development in Latin America; Agroecology in the context of COVID 19, Russia-Ukraine conflict, economic inflation, etc (17 April 2024) – Prof. Clara Inés Nicholls, Ph.D, Permanent Lecturer on Sustainable Rural Development at UC Berkeley (USA).